

Military Courts Set Up

Constantine Resisting All Pressure

ATHENS (AP) — The new junta announced today the establishment of military courts in Greece to try all crimes and said this was by royal decree. But King Constantine was reported resisting pressure to give the military rulers his public approval.

With still no direct announcement of any kind from Constantine since the military seized power last Friday and took 8,500 prisoners, the government announced the court-martial measure over the radio.

In taking over the country the army reserved for itself unlimited power of trial for crimes of any kind, including political offenses.

Establishing a nationwide system of military justice strengthened the impression that the regime installed under Premier Constantine Kollias was digging in for a prolonged stay.

Sources in Athens said the 26-year-old king signed the proclamation supporting the military coup last Friday after army officers told him they would dethrone him if he didn't.

But diplomats in London said today their embassies in Athens reported the king swore in the new government only to avoid executions of political leaders. They said he is still resisting military demands that he declare a state of emergency and endorse the junta in a broadcast to the nation.

Crazy-Quilt Pattern Of US Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new wave of damaging tornadoes, a belt of thunderstorms, a record-shattering snow storm, giant hail and plunging temperatures brought a crazy-quilt pattern to the nation's weather map today.

While towns in the Chicago area struggled to free themselves from the wreckage of tornadoes that killed 52 persons Friday, other twisters injured at least 13 persons in southern Missouri Sunday.

Four tornadoes hit points in Georgia. Others touched down in Tennessee, Alabama and Arkansas. A funnel cloud was sighted near Fresno, Calif., for the second day in a row.

A series of violent thunderstorms ranged across Tennessee. They culminated at Chattanooga where nearly an inch of rain fell in a few minutes, then up to a foot of hail the size of baseballs dropped on the city's streets.

New Record Set

Heavy Snowfall Interferes With Work After Tornado

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy, wet snowflakes fell amid the debris Sunday as residents of tornado-ravaged northern Illinois communities cleared the rubble, patched their homes and prepared to bury their dead.

The snowstorm, heaviest on record so late in the spring in Chicago, hampered cleanup operations in Oak Lawn, Belvidere and Lake Zurich. These areas were hardest hit by twisters that rampaged across the top of the state and into Michigan Friday, killing 53, injuring hundreds and causing damage estimated as high as $550 million.

Four inches of snow fell on hundreds of workers at Belvidere.

A spirit of optimism, tempered by sadness, prevailed. Hubert Kay stood in front of his ruined house and said: "The ones with dead, they're the ones hardest hit. It took us 2½ years to build this house. Wind tore it down in two minutes. But you can build a house back again."

Funeral services for many of the victims were planned for today and Tuesday. Most schools in the Oak Lawn area

Troops In Mass Assault

Red Airfields Are Hit By US For First Time In War

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force and Navy planes made their first attack of the Vietnam war today on MIG jet airfields in North Vietnam, while some 20,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops made a massive assault on three Communist jungle redoubts in War Zone C.

A U.S. command spokesman said U.S. Air Force F4C Phantoms hit one North Vietnamese airfield at Hoa Lac, 19 miles west of Hanoi, while Navy A4s and A6s hit a second jet field at Kep, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Pilots reported both missions were successful, U.S. headquarters said, but there was no report of the damage.

Elsewhere in the ground war, U.S. Marine and Army infantrymen clashed repeatedly with scattered enemy forces in South Vietnam's threatened northern provinces. The U.S. command reported a total of 91 enemy dead.

In the Communist C Zone north of Saigon, helicopter-borne troops fanned out through the bomb-scarred, defoliated countryside behind thick smoke-screens laid by other helicopters.

As the advancing ground troops uncovered supply caches and stubborn guerrillas, heavy tanks of three armored squadrons crashed wide lanes in the jungle and mowed down clearings for future helicopter assaults.

The operation, named Manhattan, put about four brigades of American troops and a regiment of Vietnamese into the field, plus supporting armor, artillery and aviation battalions.

The American units were deployed on both sides of the Saigon River about 30 miles northwest of Saigon, with troops from the 25th Division along the southern sector and 1st Infantry Division troops on the north.

Three Vietnamese battalions were moving overland northwest from Ben Cat through the Ben Suc region cleared in January during Operation Cedar Falls.

Contact was reported light, though some U.S. tanks blew up on land mines, sniper fire was encountered and a Vietnamese unit engaged a small enemy force outside Ben Cat.

May Be Forced To Block Strike Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said today Congress may be forced to block a nationwide railroad strike threatened for May 3.

Both senators said such action would be a serious blow to the process of collective bargaining in the rail industry. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz agreed. Negotiations between railroad management and six shopcraft unions reportedly are at a standstill.

Chancellor Invited To Visit LBJ

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Johnson today expressed America's sorrow at the death of former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and invited Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger to visit him at Christmas or any other time.

The President told reporters afterward that he and Kiesinger had reviewed recent contacts between American and West German officials, including Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's recent trip.

He added that Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler would be ready to talk with West German leaders.

"I wanted to assure the new government that our people would be available at their request," he said.

Kiesinger has been chancellor since Dec. 1. He has not since visited the United States.

Johnson told reporters he reminded Kiesinger that on several occasions West German chancellors had come to see him during Christmas week. He added that he would be "very happy to see him in the United States at Christmas, or at any other time."

Johnson also said he and Kiesinger had agreed to meet again Wednesday "to exchange views on several problems of mutual interest."

A spokesman for the West German government said today's talk, which lasted nearly 90 minutes, gave the two men a chance to lay down the topics they will discuss Wednesday.

Neither Johnson nor the German spokesman said anything about the nature of the topics. But Johnson's allusion to Fowler indicated he had financial problems on his mind, such as the continuing drain on American gold stocks.

Wirtz and the two senators talked of the prospect of congressional action as negotiators and government mediators appeared before the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee to report on the situation.

Kennedy said he hopes Congress is not going to become a party to every labor dispute in the railroad industry. But he said both labor and management now appear to be "asking Congress to limit their freedom by law."

"If these parties fail us they should be aware that the Congress will have to act in such a way that neither party will rely on us in the future to extricate them," Kennedy said.

Javits said he is determined that Congress should act if that is the only way to avert a strike. "When the Congress does act it is very likely to leave both labor and management very unhappy," Javits said.

Wirtz and Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd said Sunday "collective bargaining has fallen flat on its face." Their comment came after a special mediation board in the contract dispute announced "a complete impasse" in negotiations.

The breakdown came only one day after President Johnson issued "one final appeal" to the parties to settle.

The threatened strike could begin May 3, expiration date of a special congressional provision which had moved back an earlier April 13 strike deadline.

Charles Fahy, chairman of the three-man mediation board, said both sides have rejected the board's settlement recommendation.

The unions want a 6.5 per cent wage increase, management has offered 5 per cent and the board recommended 6 per cent. The workers now average $2.00 an hour. Earlier the railroads had accepted the board proposal.

Wirtz and Boyd said in a statement, "It is a shame for democracy to be put on trial over so small a disagreement." Johnson said Saturday "the matter is one of dollars and cents alone, and the real differences between the parties are not great."

Soviet Spaceman Is Killed As Capsule Falls To Earth

Twisted Parachute Is Blamed For Man's Death

MOSCOW (AP)—Cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov plummeted to death from a height of more than four miles when his spacecraft Soyuz 1 tried to land today, the government announced.

It was the first time either of the two space powers has reported the death of an astronaut on an operation.

Moscow radio said ropes of the parachute meant to ease the landing twisted, and the ship hit with great force, killing the 40-year-old veteran cosmonaut.

Tass news agency said the spaceship had passed safely through the most difficult braking stretch in the dense layer of the atmosphere.

"However, when the main cupola of the parachute opened at an altitude of seven kilometers — 4.3 miles — the straps of the parachute, according to preliminary reports, got twisted and the spaceship descended at a great speed which resulted in Komarov's death," Tass added. Komarov, 40, on his second space venture, rode Soyuz into orbit Sunday amid speculation another would be sent up for an attempt to rendezvous.

The first firm intimation that something might have gone wrong came when the government newspaper Izvestia delayed its Monday evening edition without explanation.

The official announcement said Komarov had completed all missions successfully before the accident.

He will be given a hero's burial in Red Square.

Komarov's death raised speculation whether the Soviet race to the moon with the United States would be hampered.

The fiery death of three U.S. astronauts in an Apollo space capsule on the launching pad of Cape Kennedy Jan. 27 has set back the American program.

The veteran Komarov, a colonel, was the pilot of the Voskhod 1, the first three-man spacecraft to go aloft in October 1964. He was the first Russian to go into space twice.

During a television broadcast the screen was occupied by a portrait — trimmed in black — of the cosmonaut in uniform.

This was the same photograph which — without the black trim — was carried in special editions of Soviet newspapers Sunday. Please turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Says Powell Must Return To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman said today that unless Adam Clayton Powell returns to Washington soon to work in his own behalf, he has little chance of being seated in the House — regardless of what the courts decide.

"His best friends are urging that he return immediately and initiate some action," said Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., in a telephone interview from his home in Detroit.

Conyers, a member of the select House committee that found Powell guilty of "gross misconduct" said a majority of the House members still favor the March 1 action by which he was excluded.

"And the positions are hardening," he said.

The key vote leading to exclusion of the preacher-politician was 222 to 202. And, said Conyers, "unless he is present and contacting his friends and making it completely clear that he wants the seat and is willing to contact the members, there is no indication that there will be a change in votes."

The chairman of the select committee, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Sunday "the odds are against him (Powell) still."

Celler said it "would make a great deal of difference" if Powell mingled with his former colleagues and displayed "some degree of humility" instead of his usual "swagger."

Powell, who has been relaxing on the Bahamian island of Bimini since his exclusion, reportedly has decided to postpone his return pending court action.

Vote Runs Against Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incomplete returns in voting by Teamsters Union members on a new national contract with the trucking industry were running against acceptance of the agreement today.

Although an official tally was not expected from the union's national headquarters here until later in the day, unofficial totals from some two dozen locals in all parts of the country early this morning had 16,000 voting against the contract and 10,000 in favor of acceptance.

If ratified, the three-year contract would affect 450,000 drivers and other employees of 12,000 trucking firms.

Even as the voting was going on, five associations of truckers in the Chicago area brought a lawsuit against the Teamsters because of scattered strikes which they said made it impossible to continue operations.

The Chicago employers said the union was trying to pressure them into giving a raise higher than that of approximately 70 cents an hour over three years in the proposed national contract.

Differ On Other Items

Senators Ask That Asians Send Troops To Viet Nam

NEW YORK (AP) — Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., joined today in calling on Asian countries to send more combat troops to Vietnam, but differed sharply on virtually every other aspect of the war.

Byrd, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, called for increased bombing of the North. Percy, considered an opponent of present policies, claimed previous escalation hardened the enemy's will to resist, increased casualties and alienated world opinion.

The comments by the two newly elected senators were prepared for a panel discussion at the annual Associated Press meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Following on the schedule was an address by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam.

Also taking part in the discussion were Hugh A. Mulligan, Associated Press correspondent who won this year's Overseas Press Club award for Vietnam reporting, and moderator Benjamin M. McKelway of the Washington Star, a director and former president of The Associated Press.

Appeals For Unity

War Protests Assist Enemy

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned today that antiwar protests in the United States "inevitably will cost lives" by encouraging a battered Communist enemy to push his aggression in Vietnam.

"The magnificent men and women I command in Vietnam have earned the unified support of the American people," Westmoreland said.

The four-star general gave his warning and unity appeal in a speech prepared for The Associated Press annual meeting. The AP members met at the Waldorf-Astoria in the same city where opponents of U.S. involvement in Vietnam staged a massive demonstration nine days ago.

Reviewing progress of the war, Westmoreland said "the military picture is favorable," but the enemy still is full of fight despite "staggering combat losses."

"The end is not in sight," said the Army general who leads 43,000 American soldiers, Marines, Air Force men and sailors in Vietnam.

"I foresee, in the months ahead, some of the bitterest fighting of the war."

"But I have confidence in our battlefield capability. And I am confident of the support we and our allies will continue to receive from our President and from the Congress."

Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., both called at the AP meeting for more combat troops in Vietnam from other Asian nations.

But while Byrd, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, asked for increased bombing of the North,

The temperature Monday was 27 at 7 a.m., and 37 at noon. Low Sunday night 27.

The temperature one year ago today was high 74; low 54; two years ago, high 88; low 65; three years ago, high 68; low 55.

Percy, a critic of present policies, said previous escalation hardened the enemy's will to resist, increased casualties and alienated world opinion.

It was evident that Westmoreland is concerned that antiwar protests have given the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong enemy "hope that he can win politically that which he cannot accomplish militarily."

Sedalia Firm Acquires New Territory

Orme Kellett, president of the Sedalia Coca-Cola Bottling Co., has announced the acquisition of the territory of the Brunswick, Mo., Coca-Cola Bottling Company, effective May 1. At the same time, he has announced the appointment of Eugene (Gene) Gregory as vice-president of the entire operation of the Sedalia bottling firm.

The new combined territories will serve an estimated 175,000 people. The soft drinks bottled by the complex are Coca-Cola, Fresca, TAB, Sprite and Sunrise flavors.

A phase of the growth of the firm includes the re-opening of the warehouse located in Marshall. It is estimated that this warehouse will handle approximately $300,000 in sales volume during the first year after re-opening.

Gregory said, "Consolidation of bottling plant territories to cover larger areas is the trend in the soft drink industry today. It not only results in more efficient plant operation, but, and most important, provides dealers and consumers with improved and more frequent service."

Gregory's appointment as vice-president of the Sedalia Coca-Cola Bottling Company will be in addition to his former duties as general manager of the Sedalia plant.

The Brunswick territory was acquired from Ludwig A. Kinkhorst, a pioneer in the bottling of Coca-Cola in Missouri. He was associated with the soft drink business for 62 years. Kinkhorst will continue to operate other interests in the Brunswick area.

day when the Soyuz flight was hailed as a triumph. Soviet news media said the cosmonaut died today but did not give the exact time of the accident nor where this had taken place.

It had been predicted in unconfirmed reports that the Soyuz 1 flight would last up to a week. The death announcements indicated it was meant to end today and everything went all right until the last moments.

There had been speculation that a linkup of Komarov with a second spaceship would be a step toward an orbiting space platform that eventually would be used to rocket a manned capsule to the moon.

Komarov was awarded posthumously the title of hero of the Soviet Union with gold star, this country's highest award. The announcement said a statue in his honor will be erected.

After approximately 10-minute broadcasts, the radio played mournful music and the television screen showed the Soviet space monument and flag.

Tass said the official announcement was made "with great sorrow" by the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party, the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet and the Council of Ministers.

It referred to Komarov as "one of the first space explorers and talented tested of space-ships, member of the Communist party, flier-cosmonaut and hero of the Soviet Union."

Two cars were damaged in a collision at Sixth and Kentucky about 4:45 p.m. Sunday. No injuries were reported.

Involved were a 1966 Plymouth sedan driven south by Jack B. Vaughn, 17, 1200 South Osage, and a 1962 Valiant sedan driven west on Sixth by Lloyd L. Roe, 73, 705 West Fourth.

The left front fender on the Plymouth and the right front fender on the Valiant were damaged.

No injuries were reported in an accident at 4:50 p.m. Sunday at Third and Barrett, but damage resulted to two automobiles.

According to a police report, involved were a 1956 Chrysler sedan driven east on Third by Claire Rea Guffin, 60, 302 State Fair, and a 1952 Chevrolet sedan, driven east on Third by Mrs. Mabel J. Zeiger, 57, green Ridge.

Police reported Mrs. Zeiger started to pull away from the curb as Mrs. Guffin was passing. The right side of the Chrysler and the front end of the Chevrolet were damaged.

Trailer Park Hit Hardest By Tornadoes

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Several tornadoes tore through southern Missouri early Sunday, injuring at least 13 persons.

Most of the injured were in a trailer park at the east edge of Springfield where a number of mobile homes were wrecked.

The highway patrol said a twister touched down near Rogersville and Stafford in Webster County southeast of Springfield. Barns and homes were unroofed in that area.

Farm buildings were damaged near Mansfield, Mo. The weather bureau said a tornado hit near Malden in Southeast Missouri and lifted just before it reached the Malden Air Base.

At Springfield Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Campbell and Mrs. Campbell's sons, Floyd Johnson, 13; and Carl Johnson, 10, were in their mobile home at the trailer park when the storm hit.

"We saw a big black cloud," said Mrs. Campbell. "There was a loud roar. It tipped the trailer over, then picked it up and slammed it against our car. The trailer broke into pieces and I was dumped on the ground. I saw my husband sitting on a piece of the trailer. He got up and the piece blew away. Then I started screaming for my boys."

The boys were found 200 feet away across the trailer park. Floyd Johnson was injured. Hospital attendants said his condition was serious.

Among others hurt in the trailer park was W.E. Faggard, 77, who was in a trailer with his wife; a friend, J.R. Brewster of Tishomingo, Okla., and the latter's mother, Mrs. Cleo Brewster.

The trailer was crushed by a falling tree and Faggard suffered rib fractures. Because of a heart ailment, his condition was listed as critical at a hospital.

Communist Gov't In Vietnam Preferable

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, says even a Communist government in Vietnam would have been preferable to intervention by the United States which has cost 10,000 American lives and 50,000 wounded.

Gruening said Sunday that the alternative to U.S. military action "may well be that Vietnam would be Communist, but it would be Communist independent of China."

In a debate with Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., at a forum both he and Tower agreed that China was the principal antagonist in Asia.

Tower argued that the "best buffer against communism is to encircle China with prosperous capitalist-oriented countries like Taiwan, South Korea, Thailand and Japan."

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Readers: I'm shook. Recently I printed a letter from a Dallas golfer who wrote to say he wore his wife's girdle because it relieved his aching back and improved his posture. He added nonchalantly that he also wore his wife's nylon hose because he needed to hook the garters to something to keep his girdle down.

Shortly after that letter appeared I heard from another man whose luggage had been lost and he had no underwear. His wife gave him a pair of her bloomers, "just for the night." He liked them so well he never did go back to wearing shorts. That was in 1945 and he has been wearing ladies' bloomers ever since.

This past week I have received an avalanche of letters from virtually every state in the union. The mail attests to the fact that a startling number of men (most of them married and with families) thoroughly enjoy dressing up in women's clothes. I assure you these people are not putting me on. They are strictly for real. Here are some samples:

Dear Ann Landers: Why do you point an accusing finger at any man who happens to prefer some article of women's clothing?

Some men enjoy a soft, smooth fabric next to their skin. Somewhere along the line men got stuck with cotton underwear. I can assure you if men's silk shorts were not so expensive they would outsell cotton shorts by the carload.

Shortly after I married, my wife was making a dress for herself. We are both the same height. She asked me to put on her dress so she could pin the hem properly. I liked the feel of the silk dress and asked her if she would make one for me to lounge in. Now I have several lounging dresses and they are much more comfortable than slacks and a T-shirt. I'm not a fairy and I resent the inference that any man who wears women's clothes is a little funny.—DYERSVILLE, IOWA expert tells me cotton shorts are plenty soft enough for anybody and that most men prefer cotton shorts to the sleazier fabrics. I would not try to change the mind of a guy who sits around in his wife's dresses, however, so enjoy yourself, Bub.

Dear Ann Landers: Many men enjoy dressing up in women's clothing. I, for one, can tell you it's a real kick in the head. Here's how I discovered how much fun it could be.

Several years ago my wife and I went to a "Switch Sex Ball" at our Country Club. My wife wore our oldest son's suit. I wore one of her made-over evening dresses, her wig and white fox stole. My wife did my make-up (false eyelashes and the works), and she even painted my fingernails. I won first prize as the "Fooler Female."

I enjoyed the outfit so much I decided to wear it again several nights later when the two of us took a weekend vacation. We posed as two women friends and no one batted an eye.

Now I have several "Fooler" outfits and whenever we are out of town we have a few evenings as "women."

This may seem strange, but I assure you I am perfectly normal. These little masquerade parties are simply our way of having fun. — ALL MAN

Dear Man: Yup. You're all normal — all you guys who like to dress up in women's clothes. And if anyone says otherwise, just hit 'em with your purse, Dearie.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Cathedral Is Landmark Of Cologne

COLOGNE, GERMANY (AP)—The Cologne cathedral, where the leaders of the Western world pay tribute Tuesday to the late Konrad Adenauer, is the landmark of his native city and one of the masterpieces of medieval architecture.

Adenauer often knelt here in prayer and so did many German emperors.

In 1963 President John F. Kennedy was at the chancellor's side when they attended Mass under the cathedral's high vaulted arches. One year earlier, President Charles de Gaulle joined Adenauer at a solemn service during the French leader's successful tour of Germany, climaxing the two countries' postwar reconciliation.

Rising from a level of 62 feet above the Rhine River, the cathedral is the largest Gothic shrine in Europe. Its soaring twin towers, 512 feet high, its stone lace work and its delicate spires earned it the description of a "hymn in stone."

Construction began in 1248 — three years after Westminster Abbey — under Archbishop Konrad von Hochstaden by architect Meister Gerard. Work continued until 1516. Then Renaissance contempt for the Gothic style apparently prompted a pause that was to last for centuries.

The original plans were rediscovered in the last century and on the basis of them, the cathedral's high spires were completed between 1842 and 1880.

Allied bombers managed to spare the huge edifice during their devastating raids on Cologne in World War II. An aerial view of the cathedral emerging like an island from the ruined ancient city center is one of the best remembered photographs of defeated Germany.

Although it had escaped direct hits, fire, bomb fragments and shock waves from nearby block-buster explosions caused extensive damage. After temporary repairs, it was reopened in 1948, but scaffolding at one front or the other has remained a customary sight.

Victory Is Predicted By O'Donnell

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gladys O'Donnell predicts she'll be a 2 to 1 winner in the race for the presidency of the 500,000-member National Federation of Republican Women.

A veteran of GOP politics, Mrs. O'Donnell, a Long Beach, Calif., businesswoman and air race pilot is running as head of a "unity team" ticket — the official slate of the federation's nominating committee.

She says she may have to concede her home state but otherwise "it looks extremely good" now to beat Phyllis Schlafly for the presidency.

Mrs. Schlafly, 43, Alton, Ill., author of the 1964 campaign booklet "A Choice Not an Echo" and now federation first vice president, plans to make a floor fight at the federation's May 5-6 convention here. There are 4,649 eligible delegate votes.

Mrs. Schlafly also claims victory and was campaigning last week as a delegate and speaker at the Daughters of the American Revolution's congress, while Mrs. O'Donnell has been speech-making in the South.

The two contenders appeared for the first time on the same speaking circuit last Thursday at the Georgia Federation of Republican Women in a bid for that state's 94 delegates. But they didn't even meet while circulating at an hour-long reception.

The issue between the two is mainly a matter of degree of conservative Republicanism. Mrs. O'Donnell has been described as a moderate conservative, Mrs. Schlafly as far right.

EDITORIALS

Ah... the Morning Mail!

Every morning brings a deluge of mail that would require a full day to digest, leaving no time for ordinary chores. Long ago I learned the trick of quickly slicing open an envelope, removing the contents, unfolding them, glancing at the printed or written text, reaching for another letter with the left hand while the right hand mechanically dumped unwelcome propaganda into the waste basket. This has become such a habit that I would be confused indeed to find the wastebasket at my left side.

Every day thousands upon thousands of dollars in postage, let alone paper, letterheads and envelopes, are spent by businesses and corporations and individuals seeking to break into the daily news and advertising columns by the back door. By that is meant a free ride regardless of merit.

Some of the appeals for free publicity and advertising drips with emotionalism tempting one to break down and cry.

Our own government and its innumerable bureaus and departments have the best propaganda mills extant. Many fellows who operate these publicity bureaus and the ones who encourage their support are frequently opposed to newspapers and freedom of expression because newspapers don't always agree with some of their screwball philosophy.

A pertinent observation I want to make is that most of the fellows who write for free publicity but who always run down the newspapers should be invited politely to leave the premises if they made their requests in person.

But you can't fool these fellows. They use Uncle Sam's postal department—and for five cents or less come directly into our office to get courteous and quick attention. For a moment, that is, until their missives hit the wastebasket.

Now these same fellows who deplore the newspapers, who continually knock newspaper advertising as an economic waste, are the ones who take their troubles to the newspaper and want printed words of their pet schemes publicized in a medium that reached people consistently, day in and day out.

Their inconsistency is amusing. In one breath they condemn the people's medium of expression and in another breath recognize the newspaper's potential for reaching the people—and want it at no cost to themselves.

Some of our social reforming pedagogues should inaugurate a national analysis of the economic waste of useless materials passing through the mails, instead of finding fault with legitimate news and advertising that goes a long way toward perpetuating a free press in America.

Official Navy Record Cites Commander

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The Navy is carefully sitting on all details regarding the "Caine Mutiny" aboard the U. S. Vance in Vietnamese waters which resulted in the removal of Commander Marcus Arnheiter as skipper after junior officers had kept a "Captain's Madness Log" on him.

The case could become as intriguing as Herman Wouk's celebrated novel. It involves the sensitive relations between a commander and his men in wartime; charges by them that he required Catholic officers to attend Protestant religious services and declared candy unfit in order to feed it to Vietnamese children; together with charges by him that he had to transfer the Vance from a pleasure ship to a war ship.

Commander Arnheiter's "relief for cause" has now been reviewed by Rear Admiral Walter M. Baumberger, former commander of the cruiser destroyer force in the Pacific, and has been filed for "For official use only." This column, however, has examined Baumberger's review, together with other summaries of the case, and can report on the principal charges against Arnheiter which his junior officers considered to be evidence of madness.

Opening fire on shore targets without "a preplanned fire mission" in violation of combat directives. Admiral Baumberger acknowledged that, on at least one occasion, the Vance's shore bombardment "did not fall strictly within the rules of engagement."

2. Arming a pleasure speedboat with a machinegun and using it to draw enemy fire, thus enabling the Vance to spot gun emplacements. While he had indeed armed the speedboat and had used it to board suspicious junks, the charge that he had used it as a decoy was found to be "completely without credible foundation."

3. Temporarily abandoning the ship's whale boat at night to pursue three unidentified junks, which he later towed back to the area where the whale boat had been left. Concluded Admiral Baumberger: "Since the mission of Vance included pursuit and search of unidentified craft in its area, the evidence of record does not indicate that Vance's departure from its whale boat in this instance was improper."

4. Giving canned milk, fruit juices, and bread out of the ship's stores to hungry refugees and declaring candy "unfit for use" in order to distribute it among the children. Declared Admiral Baumberger: "While surveying the candy as 'unfit for use' was improper, the insistence by Lieutenant Commander Arnheiter that food and candy be provided under circumstances was justified and should not be made the subject of censure."

Navy Gourmets

5. Arnheiter violated Navy rules by bringing liquor on board ship in the form of sherry that was poured over various desserts and Christmas eggnog that was "obviously spiked." The investigation found that, other than the spiked eggnog, no alcohol was brought aboard for beverage purposes and that the use of sherry on gourmet dishes "upgraded the etiquette and tastes of the wardroom officers."

6. Saving himself $1.85 by changing the accounting system for the officers' mess. Admiral Baumberger found: "The circumstances described do not indicate that the commanding officer was motivated in this instance by a desire to save himself $1.85."

7. Operating a "boner box," into which officers were obliged to deposit 25 cents for each minor infraction. Some $30 was collected, which was used to buy cigars for the officers. In this case, Baumberger agreed that the "boner box" should have been discontinued if it was resented by the officers.

Baumberger acknowledged that Arnheiter "exhibited a lack of tact and good judgment in his attempt to achieve commendable goals" and that "many of his methods were not understood and, thus, not supported by some of his subordinates."

The Admiral recommended that Arnheiter not be returned to the Vance but be given command of another destroyer "to provide an opportunity for reassessment of his abilities." However, two other Admirals, Thomas S. King, Jr., commander of the cruiser destroyer Flotilla II and Donald G. Irvine, who succeeded King, had previously relieved Arnheiter on the ground that the allegations against him, if true, would have impaired the safety of his ship in combat.

Since the Navy first had to choose between supporting Arnheiter, a Lieutenant Commander, or two Admirals, the Navy backed the Admirals; and when Admiral Baumberger came along with his subsequent findings, which contradicted the other two Admirals, he was overruled. As the record now stands, Arnheiter was relieved for "Gross lack of good judgment and lack of ability to command and lead people."

Worsening Food Shortage

Vice President Humphrey has quietly warned the White House that the nation soon may be confronted with a serious food shortage unless U. S. farmers are encouraged by higher subsidies to grow more food.

He has pointed out that both the corn and wheat crops for 1967 will fall below original forecasts, a drought still threatens food production in the Southwest, most people realize reserves of both wheat and feed grains are below the safety margin.

For example, there is less than a month's supply of feed grain on hand. This means farmers will be paying more for the grain they feed their livestock. This in turn will boost the price of beef and pork.

AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—It looks like President Johnson is going to get it every which way.

Alabama's former governor, George C. Wallace, the South's outstanding segregationist, is thinking of heading a third-party ticket in the 1968 presidential race and believes, if he does, it would hurt the Democrats more than the Republicans.

At the other extreme Dr. Martin Luther King, the civil rights apostle, is now busy trying to join the civil rights and antiwar-in-Vietnam movements into an antiwar bloc that will try to pressure Johnson into seeking peace.

King talked at a news conference at Cambridge, Mass., where a pamphlet, distributed at the conference, said, "We aim at more than changing a vote or two in Congress. We seek to defeat Lyndon Johnson and his war."

On the CBS television program, "Face the Nation," Charles H. Percy who took his seat last January as a senator from Illinois, wasn't satisfied with the way Johnson is handling the war although Percy's solution sounded confusing.

In just about three months Percy has shot up to such prominence among Republicans that he is being mentioned as a possible candidate for his party against Johnson next year.

He said the United States should press for more participation by its Asian allies in the war and should not take "no" for an answer.

"There ought to be a limit," he explained, "where we say: This is how far we'll go and no farther unless you provide the support and help from Asia itself that can keep the effort going."

"Suppose the answer is no?" he was asked.

"I don't think that's an acceptable answer," Percy said. But that really wasn't answering the question. And then, while urging a limitation on the American effort, he insisted the United States should not reduce or withdraw its present forces in Vietnam.

But if the allies won't do any more, and the United States should not reduce its forces, what should it do to win, since it hasn't won yet?

He also suggested the bombing of North Vietnam be limited rather than expanded. He said escalating the bombing decreases the chances for peace but he favors a continuance of the bombing.

Earlier this month King was saying that getting the civil rights and antiwar movements to work together to end the war was not a "fusion" of the two forces but only a "coalition," which happens to mean "fusion."

He is "fusing" them now, or trying to.

There was a strong reaction against King's proposal by other civil rights groups which warned that the civil rights effort would be weakened by linking it with antiwar sentiment.

Sunday he was asked if he thought his peace activities had hurt his work for civil rights and said, "I think my failure to work for peace would have hurt it more."

This is questionable, for only Sunday the head of the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., took a different view in a place where civil rights can be hurt: Congress.

Celler said statements by King, and two Negro advocates of "black power," Stokely Carmichael and Floyd McKissick, "have injured severely the civil rights movement."

He said their statements, along with a recent burning of the American flag during an antiwar demonstration in New York a week ago, had virtually killed chances to pass civil rights legislation now or in the immediate future.

But King said Sunday the antiwar movement would get into politics at least to the extent of supporting peace candidates in local elections but, since the pamphlet talked of defeating Johnson, King may be thinking in national terms, too, perhaps even of a fourth party.

Jim: "How about a series of all sorts of bridge hands this week instead of concentrating on one subject?"

Oswald: "Fine. I have one here that was played at rubber bridge in the Bahamas this winter. West was John Crawford who still plays bridge as well as anyone in the world. Even the best are fixed occasionally and this time Herbert (Buzz) Scheffel of New York made five hearts against him by means of planning an end play at trick one."

Jim: "Let's see if I can work out the play. I assume that South ducked the first spade."

Oswald: "He did! At this point Crawford could have beaten the hand by leading with the ace of clubs or a low club but that play would really require knowledge of the location of all the cards. If Johnny did shift it would surely have been to a diamond. Anyway, East had played a high spade to ask for a spade continuation."

Jim: "It looks as if Crawford's spade continuation gave South a pretty good blueprint of the East-West hands. Obviously Crawford did not hold both ace and king of clubs but he would have a six-card suit for his three-club bid. That left East with a singleton ace or king. It was a ready made end play."

Oswald: "Exactly. South took his spade ace, led a diamond to dummy's ace, ruffed the last spade high, cashed dummy's ace and king of trumps and king of diamonds, ruffed dummy's last diamond and led a club."

Jim: "There is one very interesting feature of the play. It was necessary for South to duck the first spade. Otherwise East would have been able to get out of the eventual end play."

Leisure Doesn't Always Follow The Prosperous

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Prosperity hasn't brought leisure to all. One out of every five U.S. breadwinners still works 49 or more hours a week. Among those in the upper income level — above $10,000 a year — one of every four claims he works 60 or more hours a week.

Are you a dreamer? You may think you're not, but the chances are that at least 20 per cent of the time you are asleep you are dreaming, whether you remember your dreams or not.

It is difficult for the average person to stay more than a minute under water. But the whale, although he ordinarily doesn't remain submerged more than 10 minutes, can do so for two hours.

Despite the prevalence of doctors, the last U.S. Census Bureau's listing of occupations reported America still has 368 midwives. But in male fields of employment there has been a steady decline in the number of farmers, miners and butlers.

We're a nation on the go. Travel has become a $30-billion-a-year industry in the United States. Our airlines flew 80 billion passenger miles in 1966, an increase of 16.5 per cent within 12 months.

One of three American tourists who visit Mexico suffer briefly from a form of diarrhea known colloquially as "Montezuma's revenge." Science still hasn't isolated the causative factor. Nor has it found out why one of three Mexican tourists who visit the United States suffer from the same complaint.

Do we inherit fatness? Most researchers think this is rare.

Democrat Pick-ups

Karen was celebrating her tenth birthday and her mother took her and her little friend, Becky, out to dinner. Then she brought them back home and on the dining room table was a pretty birthday cake with ten candles. The mother lighted the candles, asked all the families of the two little girls, to sing the "Happy Birthday Song," and then told Karen to blow out the candles.

Karen blew, all the candles went out, and she looked up delighted at her father, "Look, Daddy," she exclaimed, "I blew all the candles out." And she had, but a second later she and Becky looked at the cake in amazement — for all the candles came on again and were burning just as brightly as before.

Again, when Karen recovered from the shock enough, she blew them all out once more, but again they came right back on. Then Becky attempted to help her, and they both blew and blew until they didn't have any breath left to blow, and the candles would go out and then come on again.

What they didn't know was that those were trick candles with a core inside and refused to be blown out. The only way their flame could be put out permanently was to dip them in water.

That will be a birthday that Karen and Becky will never forget — the candles that wouldn't blow out. — H. L.

Insects In The Home

Clover mites are moving into homes. These are small, reddish brown mites which feed on plants and don't bite people. They're often a real nuisance in spring or fall, mainly in new sub-divisions where outdoor vegetation is still rank and abundant.

For control, remove all vegetation from a strip of ground 41 to 2 feet wide around the house next to the foundation. If more control measures are needed, spray this strip of bare soil.

Inside the house, pick up the mites with a vacuum cleaner. Fogging around infested rooms, thoroughly, with insecticide may also prove helpful, but the "bodies" will still need to be removed with a vacuum cleaner.

Even if all of these procedures are followed, there will still be some clover mites survive. Time will take care of these.

Tour Cattle Sold

The cattle at two tour stops have been sold.

Owen Tevis was on the Kansas City market April 17 with both the Angus and Holstein steers.

The Angus steers weighed 1080 lbs. and sold for $24.60. Their average daily gain since Sept. 27 had been 2.35 lbs. per day.

The Holstein steers weighed 1157 lbs. and sold for $21.50. They had an average daily gain of 2.75 lbs. per day since Dec. 8.

The Charolais-Angus cattle seen at the Matt Green farm sold in St. Louis March 20 weighing 1005. They brought $24.75. Their average daily gain was 2.8 lbs. per day since weaning. Their feed conversion was 7½ lbs. feed per pound of gain.

Powdery Mildew of Wheat
I was called to the John Sneed farm last Friday to view the first case of powdery mildew in the county.

One of the problems involved with the yellowing leaves, especially in the lower parts of the plants, is a fungus disease known as powdery mildew. This disease will be found in wheat fields in Missouri almost every year. However, the amount and extent of the disease varies from season to season. The disease can become quite abundant on winter wheat during periods of cool and cloudy weather and especially when there is a great deal of humidity. Wheat plants affected by powder mildew are usually found in parts of the fields where the growth is dense and the air moist, especially in the lower parts of the plants. These conditions are ideal for infection. High nitrogen levels and high seeding rates tend to increase the problem.

The injury to the wheat is due to the fact the fungus robs the leaves of the food manufactured and it also reduces the amount of leaf area available for photosynthesis. Heavy mildew infections, especially during the period of tillering and the elongation of the plants may result in the reduction in the yield of grain. Normally, the wheat will outgrow the mildew, especially with the advent of hot weather.

The powdery mildew fungus has a superficial growth habit; that is, it lives on the outer surface of the leaves. One will find the surface of the leaves covered by small, irregular or circular grayish white spots. These spots enlarge as the fungus grows and the spots have a floury appearance. Frequently one will see the spores of the fungus fly as a powdery dust when the plants are moved. Under favorable conditions of moisture and temperature, new crops of spores are produced every 10 days to 2 weeks until the host tissue dies.

The fungus is not transmitted to any great extent by insects. Some question has been made concerning the green bug and other aphids that have been in the field but these are problems in themselves and are not associated with powdery mildew problem.

Usually powdery mildew is not destructive enough to justify control measures. These fungicides would be rather costly on a field scale and their use would be questionable. With the advent of warmer weather and rapid growing conditions, we should hope that some of the wheat will outgrow the initial infections and produce a crop. Most wheat varieties are susceptible, but there are some variations in their resistance. Crop rotation tends to minimize heavy infections. I suspect that some wheat is going to sustain permanent injury from the powdery mildew in areas where high nitrogen fertilization and high seeding rates have been made.

Long-Range Dairy Outlook

MU Extension Dairyman Fred Meinershagen says the long range outlook is one of growth to the needs of a growing population. It is anticipated that a production increase of about 14 per cent will be needed by 1980.

By 1980 the population is expected to have increased faster than our need for milk, so we will be consuming less milk per capita.

Meinershagen believes the increased milk needs will be met without difficulty. In 1966, 14-million cows produced 120-billion pounds of milk. Production per cow is expected to increase enough to meet the 14 per cent increased population requirement with the same or fewer number of cows than we now have.

Growing Tomatoes
Soon it will be time to plant tomatoes. You will have to decide two things — how many to plant and what kinds to plant.

Most gardeners tend to plant too many tomatoes. At least they plant more than they need for their own family use. Of course this can be an asset for the neighbor who doesn't grow tomatoes.

Unless you intend to can a lot of tomatoes, two to four plants per person will provide plenty of fresh tomatoes, permit you to can a few quarts and yet have enough to share with a few neighbors.

Of course you will have to plant these tomatoes on good soil, give them plenty of sunlight, fertilizer and water, and control insects and diseases. With this small number of plants you should stake, tie and prune the plants.

Plants purchased in peat pots usually get off to a better start than bare-root plants. Be sure to set the entire peat pot below soil level.

Selection of varieties poses somewhat of a problem. Not that there are only a few good varieties. The real problem is determining which of the many good varieties to plant.

Don't let color fool your taste buds. You may have been led to believe that yellow, white or pink tomatoes are less acid. In actual tests, many are actually more acid than the red tomatoes. Finally, don't forget disease resistance. This can mean the difference between having tomatoes and not having tomatoes. The most serious disease is fusarium wilt. It inhabits the soil. Once you have it in your garden it will remain for many years.

If you have a wilt problem, or even suspect you have a wilt problem, by all means plant wilt resistant varieties. Some of the best are Surprise, Supreme, Avalanche, Tomboy and Sunup. These were all developed by V. N. Lambeth, professor of horticulture at the University of Missouri. Ask your plant grower about these wilt resistant hybrid tomatoes.

Cattle Fly Control Program

It won't be long before flies begin to pester cattle. Now is the time to clean out the barns and loafing sheds and spread the manure, old bedding material, rotten silage, etc., in the fields. Piling it up around the farmstead only serves to attract more flies. If you plan on using backrubbers or oilers get them set up and in good working order and get your supply of insecticide and fuel oil. If you plan on spraying your cattle on a regular basis during the summer, now is the time to make sure that your sprayer is in good operating condition and get your supply of insecticide.

For backrubber and oiler use by beef cattle, charge the device with a fuel oil solution containing any one of the following: 1 per cent ronnel (Korlan), or 5 per cent toxaphene (livestock formulation).

As sprays to be applied to beef cattle, use one of the following insecticides: 0.5 per cent ronnel (Korlan), or 0.5 per cent toxaphene (livestock formulation).

Robber Captured By Patrolman During Holdup

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A patrolman captured a robber during a holdup at a Safeway store Sunday night while a second gunman escaped by smashing the glass in a rear door and fleeing in a stolen car.

Two youths entered the store just before closing time. "They both had guns," said David Eddings, 31, chief clerk. "One wore a woman's stocking over his face. They yelled, 'Everybody hit the floor.'"

The employees and four customers got down on the floor, but Bob Barger, 22, a clerk, slipped away to reach and notified police.

Patrolman Stephen Foster, 24, first to reach the store, fired a warning shot in capturing one youth at the front of the store. The other robber ran out the back way and escaped. He had no loot.

The captured youth was turned over to juvenile officers.

strip underlining an expanse of rice paddies and scrubland depopulated of civilian support and sympathy for infiltrating North Vietnamese soldiers. The actual movement of families should take about one month, Vietnamese sources estimate.

The bulk of those evacuated will be taken to a resettlement area near Cam Lo, about nine miles west of the Dong Ha Marine base on Route, and about 12 miles below the frontier.

The problems are many. Vietnamese army spokesmen say evacuation convoys could be ambushed.

No date has been given for the beginning of the actual move. However, logistic planning has started. Plans call for an extensive refugee village to be built at Cam Lo, the drilling of wells and supply of foodstuffs for the refugees by air and road.

Already 60 refugee families — about 250 people — are at Cam Lo. They elected to leave the hamlet of Gia Mon, hiring buses and trucks for the move.

Liberalized Laws Sought By Doctors

NEW YORK (AP) — A new nationwide poll indicates that American doctors by a large margin favor liberalizing abortion laws, a medical magazine reported today.

The magazine — "Modern Medicine" — received answers from 40,089 physician-subscribers. There are some 200,000 doctors in the United States. The tally showed 86.9 per cent for liberalization of the laws and 13.1 per cent against.

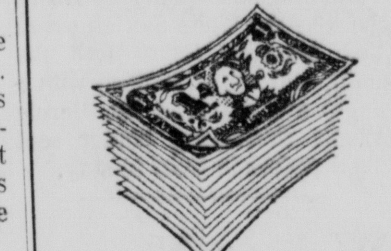

The pattern, reported by the editors, was much the same for general practitioners, internists, general surgeons, and obstetricians. Slightly higher in their affirmative votes were pediatricians, psychiatrists, neurologists, and dermatologists.

While more than a quarter of the doctors did not choose to identify their religious preference, the respondents showed almost an even break — for and against — among Roman Catholic doctors. The figures were 49.1 per cent of self-identified Catholic doctors for liberalization, 50.9 per cent against.

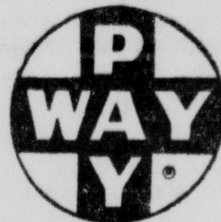

Respondents identifying themselves as Roman Catholic totaled 14.5 per cent of the doctors answering.

showed however, that 20 per cent of the nation's doctors were Roman Catholic, the editors said.

By states, the lowest percentage favoring liberalization was from South Dakota — 69.3 per cent — followed by others in the northern tier of states — Montana, Nebraska and Wisconsin — and one Southern state, Louisiana.

Those states where the highest percentage of doctors answered favoring liberalization were Delaware — 94.4 per cent — Vermont, Georgia, North Carolina and California.

The doctors also were asked what they felt should be the legal indications for therapeutic abortion. The highest score was registered for "substantial risk of maternal death."

Other reasons in order of preference were: pregnancy after rape or incest; direct, positive evidence of fetal (prebirth) abnormality; substantial risk of maternal physical health; possibility of fetal abnormality — through maternal exposure to disease, or RH blood incompatibility, or inheritable disorders; substantial risk to maternal mental health; substantial risk of maternal suicide.

Each of these points were mentioned by more than 58 per cent of the doctors.

Success Eludes Sox

Howard, Downing Sparkle In Relief Roles For N. Y.

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Success will never spoil the Boston Red Sox. Not with Elston Howard and Al Downing around to divide the job.

The New York batterymen sparked in relief roles Sunday — Howard with a decisive pinch-hit double and Downing with a near-perfect pitching performance — as the Yankees came from behind to stun the Red Sox 7-5.

Howard, whose two-out single in the ninth inning ruined Boston rookie Bill Rohr's no-hit bid 10 days ago, capped a five-run go-ahead rally in the fifth with his two-run double — the Yankees' first extra-base hit in seven games.

Downing came out of the bullpen with New York trailing 5-1 in the fourth and allowed just one hit the rest of the way for his second victory in two relief appearances — both against Boston. The little left-hander blanked the Red Sox over the final five innings in last Sunday's 18-inning marathon, won by the Yankees 7-6.

"He may be ready to put everything together," Manager Ralph Houk said of the 25-year-old strikeout artist who appears to be rebounding from two straight losing seasons. Downing fanned seven Boston hitters Sunday.

In other American League action, California moved into first place by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 9-6 in 12 innings and 2-1; Baltimore split a twin bill with Kansas City, winning the opener 5-2 before bowing 8-7; Minnesota topped Detroit 4-2 and Washington whipped Chicago 5-1.

Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 10-6 and 3-1. Los Angeles slugged St. Louis 9-3. Cincinnati downed Houston 5-3 and the Chicago Cubs tripped Pittsburgh 7-3 in National League play. Atlanta's scheduled doubleheader at San Francisco was rained out.

Boston's four-run lead over the Yankees began to disappear in the fifth when right-hander Darrell Brandon walked Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle gave up a bases-filling single to Joe Pepitone and wild-pitched a run across.

Steve Whitaker's sacrifice fly delivered another run and when Brandon walked Charlie Smith he was replaced by Jose Santiago. Jake Gibbs' single sent the third run home before Howard, who had come through with a shutout-breaking single off Rohr in the Red Sox' 6-1 victory Saturday, looped a double in to right center.

The two-base hit, which snapped an extra-base famine of 67 2-3 innings for the one-time Bombers, gave Downing a 6-5 lead. Gibbs' sacrifice fly in the eighth produced an insurance run the new relief ace hardly needed.

Defense Is Tops In Scrimmages

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In almost every football camp in the Big Eight, the defense held sway in scrimmages. The exception was Kansas State, where the first team pounded the second, 38-7 Saturday.

This doesn't mean offenses are getting worse. One factor is the position juggling and experimentation which all coaches must do. Spring is the time for it. This lack of polish is bound to hurt the offense.

Another factor is a number of top athletes are competing in other sports. At Colorado, for instance, quarterback Dan Kelly is playing baseball and split end Larry Plantz is competing in track. Kansas halfback Junior Riggins is playing baseball.

Most coaches put their No. 1 offense against the No. 1 defense.

Nebraska's offense broke loose Saturday more than the previous weekend, but coach Bob Devaney said "we haven't progressed really well offensively. I'm afraid we're not strong enough in the line."

All America Wayne Meylan, Jim McCord and Jerry Patton in the line and back Ken Geddes, a sophomore, all looked good on defense.

Oklahoma coach Jim Mackenzie was wishing for more linebackers like Don Pfimmer, a 190-pound transfer from Trinity, Tex., University. Only three touchdowns were scored in 128 plays and the coach said the pass protection was the worst he'd ever seen.

Coach Pepper Rodgers watched his top defenders whip his top offensive men 22-3, 21-3 and 27-6 in three 30-minute games, and had ample praise for the defense, which intercepted four passes.

Quarterbacks Bob Douglass and Jim Ettinger hit 10 of 36 passes combined but many were dropped and Rodgers was satisfied with their progress.

K-State tailback Cornelius Davis gained 157 yards in 26 carries and Bill Nossek's pinpoint passing was a factor. "This was by far the best work-out we've had since I've been here," said K-State coach Vince Gibson.

Oklahoma State drilled on downfield blocking, screen passing and draw plays and OSU coach Phil Cutchin praised several rookie players.

Missouri coach Dan Devine said 280-pound Russ Washington "is taking charge just fine" in his move from defensive end to offensive tackle.

"But don't forget we might need Washington in the backfield if Barry Lischner doesn't come around," Devine said. Lischner, 212-pound blaster, has had knee surgery. The knee often swells.

Iowa State coach Clay Stapleton feels his switch to the monster defense will help his offense because it will be ready for it in games.

the nightcap, pinch runner Marcelino Lopez scoring on third baseman Max Alvis' wild throw to the plate. Reliever Jack Kralick was charged with the loss, his second setback of the afternoon.

Kralick departed with the score tied 6-6, two on and one out in the 12th inning of the opener. Bobby Knoop, Jose Cardenal and Paul Schaaf then raked Dick Radatz for run-scoring singles. Jimmie Hall had singled home the tying run for California in the seventh.

Successful homers by the Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, paced the Orioles to their first-game victory over Kansas City. Steve Barber was the winner, with relief help from Moe Drabowsky and Stu Miller.

Pitcher Jack Aker's run-scoring single off Miller climaxed a four-run KC rally in the eighth inning of the nightcap that wiped out a 7-4 Oriole edge. Frank Robinson hit his second homer of the two bill for Baltimore.

Zoilo Versalles lashed a two-run triple in the ninth, lifting the Twins past Detroit after Norm Cash's homer had pulled the Tigers even in the eighth. Walt Bond rapped a two-run pinch homer for Minnesota in the top of the eighth.

Washington's Barry Moore checked the White Sox on seven hits, blanking them until the ninth, and helped himself with a single and sacrifice fly. Bernie Allen's first-inning homer sent the Senators in front to stay.

Wants No Part Of Two Competitors

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleandro Herrero of Puerto Rico, co-owner of Dawn Glory, considered the prospects of Damascus and Successor and decided:

"I want no part of them in the Kentucky Derby. My horse might get in the way."

"He's one whale of a horse," Herrero said of Damascus after he had scored a six-length victory in the $112,400 Wood Memorial at Aqueduct last Saturday.

"And there is another one whale of a horse down in Kentucky." That was a reference to Successor, from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, who goes Thursday in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland in Lexington.

Dawn glory, winner of Pimlico's Survivor Stakes, couldn't do better than third in the Wood. He was beaten nine lengths for the purse of $73,060. Gala Performance, the distant runner-up, wasn't even nominated for the Derby by owner Alfred Vanderbilt.

But despite the sparkling performance of Successor in the Wood, and the knowledge of Successor's capabilities, the starting field for the May 6 running of the Derby at Churchill Downs probably will number a dozen or more.

Outside of establishing Damascus as the strong favorite, pending Successor's showing in the Blue Grass, the weekend produced the following Derby news:

1. Trainer Hirsch Jacobs withdrew Flamingo winner Relected Glory because of a sore left fore shin and a few hours later found himself with an unexpected Derby starter in Reason to Hail. Reason to Hail, who bowed to better-known horses in such major stakes as the Florida Derby and Gotham, won the $93,750 California Derby at Golden Gate fields by 1 1/4 lengths.

2. The Genter family and trainer Sunshine Calvert came to a decision on Florida Derby winner In Reality. He'll leave his Garden State headquarters in New Jersey the middle of this week and will get his final Derby prep in the seven furlongs of the Stepping Stone at Churchill Downs Saturday.

3. The Tartan Stable, owned by W.L. McKnight, will not be represented in the Run for the Roses. Trainer Johnny Nerud again said his ace, Dr. Fager, will not run. He had hoped the previously unbeaten but untested Brunch would make the grade. But Brunch wound up last in the 1 1/4 miles of the Wood after battling for the lead for six furlongs. The Derby is a 1 1/4-mile race.

Damascus, who was vanned back to his Laurel, Md., home Sunday, was expected to depart for Churchill Downs today. He'll be ridden by Bill Shoemaker, winner of three Kentucky Derbies, the last on Lucky Debonair in 1965.

Pirates Leaving Town A Bit Early

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates discovered that Chicago left them cold and are happily leaving town a little ahead of schedule, no doubt relieved that neither the Cubs nor the Mets appear on their schedule for a while.

In their first nine games, the Pirates, everybody's preseason favorites to win the National League pennant, have faced only New York and Chicago, the tailenders last season.

But the Mets and Cubs have combined to win five games and lose only three to Pittsburgh. Sunday's 7-3 Chicago victory being the latest in the series.

The Pirates were supposed to play the Cubs again today, but the Cub management, perhaps out of kindness, came up with possibly the earliest postponement in baseball history, calling the game in the seventh inning Sunday because of snow forecast for today.

Sunday's game was played in 37-degree weather and rookie Norm Gigon's homer accounted for three Chicago runs. The Cubs scored four unearned runs in the fourth inning, with Adolfo Phillips singling home two of them.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia won a pair from New York 10-6 and 3-1. Cincinnati took Houston 5-3. Los Angeles bombed St. Louis 9-3 and a doubleheader between Atlanta and San Francisco was rained out.

In the American League, New York beat Boston 7-5, Minnesota took Detroit 4-2, Washington overcame Chicago 5-1, Baltimore by prep in the seven furlongs of the Stepping Stone at Churchill Downs Saturday.

more split a doubleheader with Kansas City, winning 5-2 before losing 8-7, and California swept a pair from Cleveland, 9-6 in 12 innings and 2-1.

Donn Clendenon and Roberto Clemente hit homers for the Pirates, but Cub starter Ferguson Jenkins settled down to his second victory, striking out 10. The Pirates now move on to a series with front-running Philadelphia and St. Louis, hoping to fare better than they did against the doormats.

Rich Allen hit a pair of home runs, one in each of the Phillies' victories and Dick Ellsworth gave just seven hits to the Mets in his first appearance of the season in the nightcap. Phil Linz' two-run double in the eighth inning of the first game put the Phils ahead for good.

Milt Pappas held off the Astros, though he needed late-inning help from Ted Abernathy. The Reds got five straight hits in the first before a man was put out. Deron Johnson's single driving in two runs. Ron Davis hit a three-run homer for Houston.

Ron Fairly drove in five runs for the Dodgers with a double and the club's first homer of the season. Claude Osteen kept the Cards in tow on 10 hits, picking up his second victory in three outings. Lou Brock continued his torrid hitting pace with three hits for the Cardinals.

Wins Kenya Tourney

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Guy Wilstenholme of England won the Kenya Open Golf Championship Sunday with a 72-hole score of 279, four strokes better than Pete Thomson of Australia.

Yancey In Lead In Dallas Open

DALLAS (AP) — Bert Yancey, with the idea that the most important thing in golf is to get the ball in the hole, fired a four-under-par 66 to take a one-stroke lead in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open Tournament. Then he lectured on putting.

"A lot of players are afraid to try to be good putters," he told the press room Sunday after he had slammed into first place at 54 holes with 203-seven under par.

"They want to be known as hitters and neglect putting. I believe that since putting is the most important thing in golf, one should concentrate on that. I practice a lot."

Yancey had just toured the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course in 26 putts and included 25, 50, 40 and 15-yard birdie putts in his collection.

Illustrating his observation that hitting the ball wasn't as important as most folks thought, he was spraying his tee shots and irons.

That caused bogeys on the first and ninth holes when he drove into the roughs. But his sensational putting made up for it.

"I look at the back of the ball to keep my head still," he explained.

Yancey, in his fourth year on the tour and winner of three tournaments, plus almost $100,000 in cash, led another ex-collegiate golfer-Kermit Zarley, formerly of the University of Houston, going in the final round today.

Yancey, however, hasn't won a tournament this year although he led the Masters for three rounds only to wind up third.

Zarley shot a 68 for 204 at 54 holes as he and Yancey moved past Roberto DeVicenzo of Argentina and such shot-makers as Gay Brewer, Bob Goalby and Bobby Nichols.

DeVicenzo led the tournament at 36 holes with 134 but slumped to a three-over-par 73 Sunday. He fell all the way to a tie for seventh place at 207 with Brewer, who could manage only 72.

Goalby had a 70 and was tied with Charley Sifford for third at 205. Nichols soared to a 77 for a 213 total and was tied for 28th place.

Sifford posted a 70 Sunday and along with Goalby is only two strokes off the pace. Tied for fifth at 206 are Bob Charles, the New Zealander, who had Sunday's best round — a 65 — and Doug Sanders, who managed a 67 although playing with an upset stomach.

The 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course was in perfect shape as a bright sun dried it out from the heavy rains that caused postponement and delay of rounds. Only 10 players, however, bettered par.

Ryun On Schedule For Self-Set Goal

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Running marvel Jim Ryun, admitting to a case of pre-meet nerves, proved to himself Saturday he's right on schedule in his quest of a 3:50 mile by producing an intercollegiate record 3:54.7 at the 42nd Kansas Relays.

"The only reason I felt a little sick was nerves, from all the speculation about a record," Ryun said. "I didn't sleep well."

Ryun stated beforehand he had no thoughts of nearing his world mark of 3:51.3, that the race was an experiment to determine where he was in his training. But rumors about what the incredible Kansas sophomore was shooting for spring up like dandelions at every meet he competes in.

The tall, slim Sullivan award winner will celebrate his 20th birthday at the Drake Relays Saturday by returning to double-duty relay work. He was well rested for his Glenn Cunningham mile effort.

It was perhaps a measure of Ryun's stature in track that he was in overwhelming choice for the Don Pierce ward as most outstanding athlete of a meet which produced several tremendous performances.

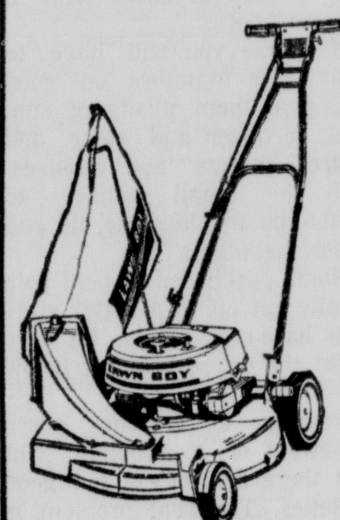

Jim Hines, leader of Texas Southern's group of gifted sprinters, was good enough to win the award almost any other KU Relays. So was Fred Burton, 16-7 pole vaulter who just missed 17 feet. So was Steve Herndon of Missouri with a 7-foot high jump. Or how about Conley Brown of Rice?

Bryan May Have Key To Next Title

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oklahoma State coach Chet Bryan may have the key to a second straight Big Eight baseball championship in right-handed relief ace Larry Burchart, a 6-foot-3, 210-pound junior with a blazing fast ball.

Bryan's club has a solid hold on first place after sweeping three from Nebraska at Stillwater as Burchart saved each one. Kansas State was tripped twice in three games at Colorado, graveyard of many title hopefuls, while Oklahoma could only split two with last-place Iowa State.

Oklahoma State goes to Oklahoma for a big three-game series this Friday and Saturday. Five clubs in the league have scored more runs than OSU, but no team is close to the Cowboys pitching depth. Four good starters and Burchart, the league's best fireman, is a strong combination. Make that five starters because Burchart went all the way against Kansas.

Oklahoma State has won eight in a row and it was Burchart, with two hitless relief innings, who won the first game in the string, 7-6 over Missouri in extra innings. Bryan's staff now has permitted just four runs in the last six games.

The top three now line up this way — OSU 8-1, Oklahoma 6-2 and Kansas State 6-3. OSU could lose two of three at Oklahoma and still have a half-game edge over the Sooners.

Even if Oklahoma State wins the series, however, the race will be far from over, because OSU still must play three games at Colorado. In addition, K-State has a pair of series left at Stillwater and Norman.

In the other series this weekend, Iowa State, 2-7, is at K-State; Colorado, 4-5, at Kansas; 2-6; and Missouri, 4-5; at Nebraska 3-6.

Emporia State of Kansas plays two at K-State today.

Terry Schreiner's three-run homer in the eighth won the opener for Oklahoma, 6-3 at Iowa State, but OU was whipped 11-3 in the second game as Iowa State's Steve Gerlach hit a two-run homer.

Missouri beat Kansas 10-4 in the first one at Columbia as Jerry Hurt struck out 12 and Ken Meinert drove in four runs with a home run and single. Kansas got strong relief pitching by Randy Stroup and four RBI's from Randy Cordill to win the second, 7-5.

Colorado's Lloyd Hutchinson hit a three-run triple as the Buffs jumped Brad Schlesinger for a 6-0 first inning lead and won 8-6 behind Mike Willis, tall sophomore lefty who gave up four earned runs.

Burchart came in with starter Richard Frank owning a 1-0 edge and pitched four innings of scoreless one-hit ball as OSU won 3-0.

Whitworth Fires One Under Par in Tourney

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Tall Kathy Whitworth fired a one-under-par 71 Sunday to win the Raleigh Ladies Invitational Golf Tourney.

Miss Whitworth, who started the final round tied with Susie Maxwell, wound up with a 54-hole total of 215. Miss Maxwell finished with 220 to take second place.

Jo Ann Prentice came in third with 221. She pulled within three shots of Miss Whitworth after the first nine but bogeyed four of the last five holes to post a 75 final round.

SAMSON AND DELILAH, modern version? Nope. It's just Clayton Larson, Cal Tech shotputter, left, and Kam Nelson, right, an Alhambra, Calif., sprinter. Both go in for long hair. But is it really true blondes have more fun? Clayton seems to be enjoying himself. He recently took a third place in the Oregon Invitational.

Insurance Firms Seek Cash Loaned On Policies In '66

NEW YORK (AP)—Life insurance companies are now using their ingenuity to encourage repayment of some of those millions lent on policies last year at the height of the tight money problems.

New England Mutual, for instance, is mailing cards to borrowers suggesting that the company be authorized to withdraw a certain amount each month from the borrower's checking account.

Northwestern Life and Mutual of New York also have formal programs to recapture some of the money that drained from their coffers last year. Several companies, including Equitable, are considering special repayment plans.

The purpose is twofold: —To bring back to the insurance companies funds they can use for other, perhaps more profitable, investments.

—To encourage borrowers to protect their policies, which are diminished by the size of the loan outstanding.

Policy loans make up a very small percentage of life insurance company assets. Nevertheless, the percentage of loans, $9.1 billion, to assets, $165 billion, rose last year to more than 5 per cent for the first time in many years.

NAACP Requests Charges Be Filed

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A complaint about racial discrimination at a tavern was pointed up Sunday at the close of a three-day, 10-state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The conference adopted a resolution requesting that charges be filed against the tavern under federal anti-discrimination laws.

Mrs. Kelsey Beshears, president of the local NAACP chapter, said Negro delegates were refused service at the tavern Friday night. She said the FBI was notified.

About 300 persons attended the sessions. States represented included Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming.

Analysis Of Women

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dr. Anne F. Scott, associate professor of history at Duke University, told a recent convocation at Newcomb College that Southern women "are so afraid they will lose their sex appeal or their motherly and wifely ability (after their children are grown) that they spend their leisure in extra household chores that really bore them to death."

Borrowers of this $9.1 billion are not obligated to repay in any formal manner. There are no restrictions on time, size of payment, method of payment. As a result, repayments often are slow and sometimes are never made.

Meanwhile, however, the borrower continues to pay an annual interest charge of about 5 per cent, regardless of interest rates elsewhere in the market.

This added burden of paying interest on top of premiums endangers the policy to a slight degree. There is always the chance that the combined charges might be too great a burden and that the policy might be permitted to lapse.

Insurance people have tried before to set up systems for regular repayments. Such plans existed in the 1930s, but some companies found it wasn't worth the cost, since few borrowers avoided themselves of the service.

As everyone knows, times have changed since the 1930s. It is a vastly different world. Perhaps, the insurance people reason, regular repayment plans may work now for these reasons:

1. The surge in policy loans last year was caused by tight money and rising interest rates elsewhere. Policy loans, however, were held by law to 5 per cent or so, and thus represented one of the best sources of low cost money. Interest rates now are coming down. The picture is changing.

2. Statistics indicate that a lot of people have the money to begin paying back these loans. Since late last year the percentage of disposable income going into savings has risen to 7 per cent from 5 per cent. This is very high.

With these factors in its favor, Northwestern Life became one of the first to tackle aggressively the repayment problem. Very shortly after it began to do so 15 other companies wrote to ask for information on the program.

Northwestern's plan included the automatic checking account deduction. In addition, it sent a self-addressed envelope to a borrower every time he made a payment, hoping thereby to encourage still another repayment. It also enclosed advertisements in other correspondence with the borrower.

Northwestern now finds that more than one-half the repayments are being made through its envelope system.

Teenage Special, Original

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Go," Sunday night's ABC special for the younger generation, was an uninhibited and delightfully original hour of music, comedy and dancing.

There was absolutely no sense to much of it. There was Rudy Vallee singing through a megaphone approximately as long as the Holland Tunnel. There was Gene Barry, the actor, leaning on the bonnet of his Rolls-Royce trying unsuccessfully to blow bubble gum while the Buffalo Springfield — a Beatle-type singing group specializing in Civil War uniforms — were heard off camera.

The hour was full of sight gags. Smokey the Bear was glimpsed puffing a cigar in bed.

Pickets trotted through carrying signs like "Bomb the Ban" and "De-hyphenate Ann Margret." John Cameron Swayze popped up from time to time to kid the torture-test commercials he conducts for a watch company. There was some exciting and off-beat choreography in dance numbers by David Winters' group. The use of bright colors was daring and effective.

The style of the hour was set originally by the Beatle movie, "A Hard Days Night," and it worked beautifully for a variety hour.

ABC's "examination in depth" of the late film star, Humphrey Bogart, proved to be a pretty superficial slideover of his 25-year career in films. It opened and closed with shots of college students describing Bogart as "cool."

A number of well-known film personalities spoke admiringly of his talent and his honesty or told rather unrevealing anecdotes. Ingrid Bergman, his co-star in "Casablanca," said she found him fascinating but repeated what she told inquiring friends at the time: "I have kissed him but I don't know him."

Generally the hour relied heavily on clips from the 75 films in which the actor appeared, starting with a large number of gangster parts and finally graduating to the non-gangster days, but neither the writing nor editing showed much wit.
